Somnambulism.—The town of Stratford was thrown into a state of expit most on Saturday by the discovery that a case of diamonds was missing. It seems that Mrs. Gunther name from New York on Saturday to the house of Asa Curtie, her father, bringing with her a case containing a diamond ring and pin valued at $1,000. The jewels had been presented to her by her father in law, Ex Mayor Gunther, of New York, and sho was very careful of them. Upon retiring she placed the case in a bureau of her sleeping apar ment, and when she looked for them next morning they were gone. A preliminary search of the house failed to discover the missing gems, and the theory of robbery was started. The Police of Bridgeport were notified, and upon searching the house again the missing case and its contents were found in the covering of an old sofa .-Mrs. Gunther is given to somnambulism, and in a fit of sleep walking Saturday night had taken the case from the bureau and thrust it into a hole in the sefa covering. She remembers nothing of the freak on awakening, of course, and was therefore as much mystified over the disappearance of the lowelry as any one. In a former fit of somnambulism some time ago she secreted a new silk dress to the attic, where it remained undiscovered for a year.-New Haven Palladium.

DIDN'T ENJOY LIFE IN LIBERIA - Laura Lane, a pegro girl of Valdosta, who went to Liberia in 1877, returned to her old home last Friday morning. She gives anything but a cheerful account of her life in that model African Republic. Among other things she says that "the natives season everything very highly with pepper, and when a child is born among them they stuff its mouth with red pepper and grael, and lay it out in the sun for an hour. They say it will make it strong and healthy.' Also, she says "the natives are very hard on our people when they commit crime." Sho mentions the case of one Reuben Cayho, an emigrant from America, who stole something from one of them, and they caught him, tied a big rock around his neck and threw him in the river. That was the last of him. She concludes her recital by saying: "I am glad to cot back and am satisfied to remain in America. Other colored people who want to try foreign ecuntries can do sa, and learn from experience what I have learned. I feel better since I have reached my own white folks."- Savanaah News

THE LEOPARD FISH -Prof. Baird has forwarded to E. G. Backford, Commissioner of Fisheries, a new fish caught by a Gloucester sea captain about fifty miles south by east of Noman's Land. It is said to represent the new genus Lophcatilus, one having the general appearance of Latilus, but with the addition 300 packages of POTOMAC FISH for sale by of a nuchal crest and labial appendages. It is S. J. REED.

The fish are first class, and are as follows, viz called the leopard fish on account of its spots. One who has seen tire fish has noticed some FAMILY ROE HERRING, in barrels, half peculiar traits; one thing strange was to see an adipose fig like that ou the salmon, only that this fig. instead of being near the tail, was ou top of the head.
